makes life live,

"Give it whatever the significance"

Foreword

"Old Mansfield, high upon the eastern hill . . ." Many times we have stood with pride as these familiar bars of our Alma Mater have been played by our M.S.C. Marching Band.

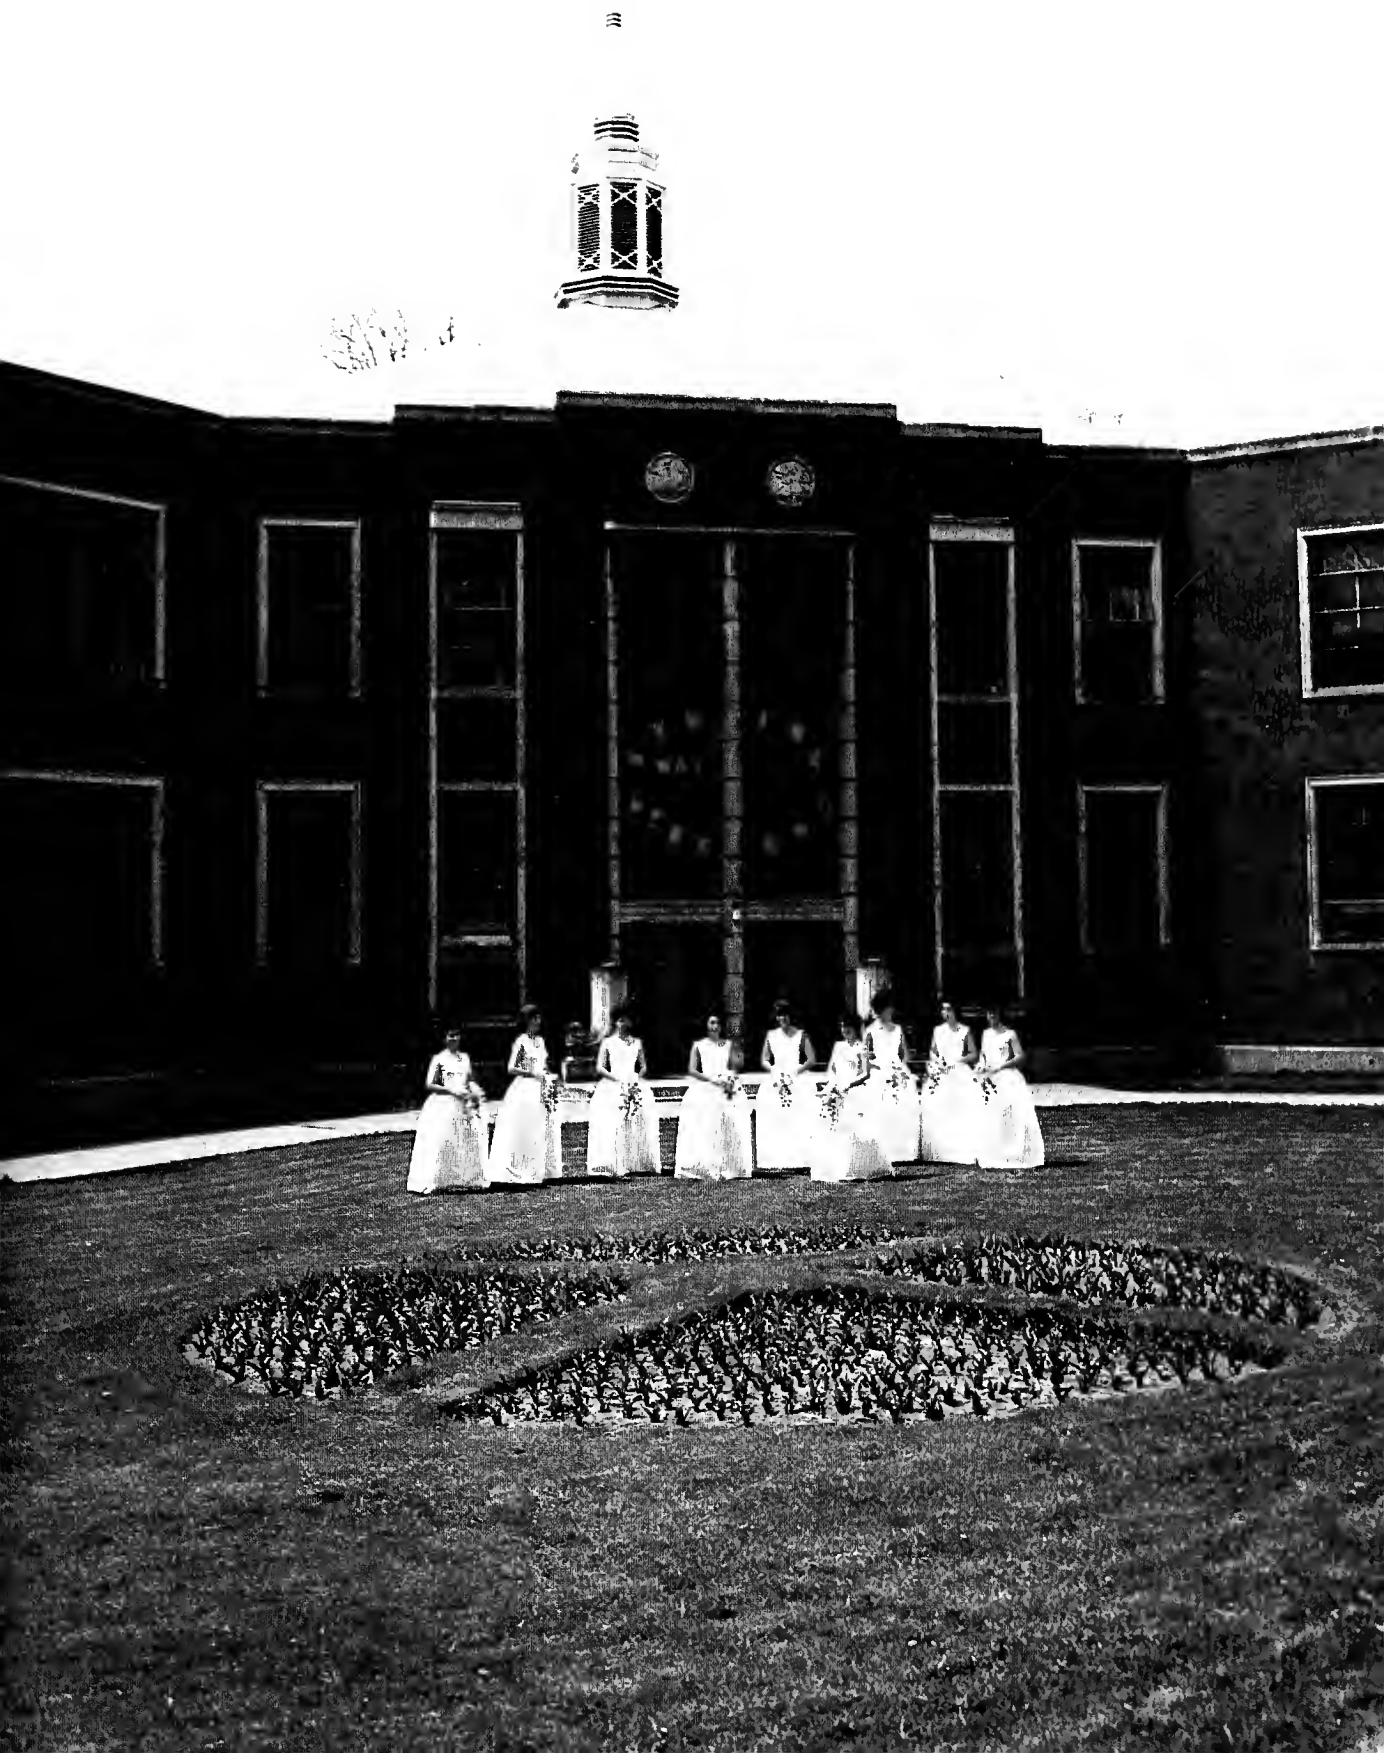

Varied factors have brought us together in "the little town upon the hill," the Carontawan. Yet there is one thing held in common—all of us are enrolled in an institution of higher learning to prepare for a future profession and to gain new ideas and philosophies.

Studying until the early hours for the big exam, hurrying to the library to complete the reading due the next day, hurrying across a darkened campus to a club meeting, replenishing energy with subs and Pepsies, applauding the team as they come out on the floor, enjoying "Up a Lazy River" by the Pep Band, playing one last hand of pinochle before the Hut closes, joining with friends to plan that "big Friday night," joining in the frenzied activities preceding the holidays, booking the big band for the Cotillion . . . All this is Mansfield State College.

Naturally, there are complaints. We've all heard them—"There's not enough heat in the dorms.", "There's too much heat in the dorms.", "My schedule's all mixed up again.", "No ride and I'm stuck here for the weekend.", "Won't they ever get off the phone?", "If I had studied that, he wouldn't have asked it in the test" . . . This, too, is Mansfield State College.

However, at the end of May, when friends exclaim, "See you next September," those not coming back in the fall discover all that college has really meant to them. Registration, new classes, new faces, new friends—all this is over. The realization of how much college will be missed becomes only too clear and with new appreciation, recognition is given to the great part Mansfield State College has played in our lives.

The Student Is Mansfield State . . .

It's a busy life.

Always on the go to:

One of the many lounge areas.

The "Dining Room, the Hut, the water tower, and classes.

Smythe Park, resounding with "Go, Mounties, Go."

Back to the Dorm.

Sleeping through the eight A.M. classes . . .

What shall I do? . . .

"Study" or window watching . . .

The Cafeteria line . . .

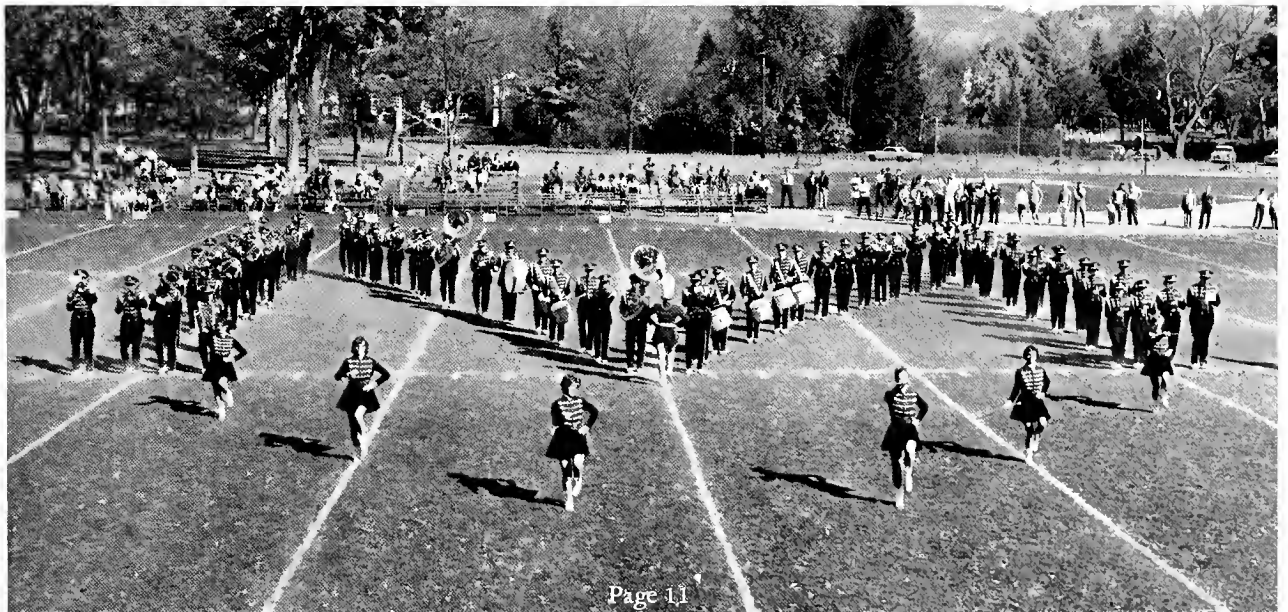

An advisor's interest . . .

A meeting of artist and professor . . .

The anxieties of a language lab . . .

M.S.C.'s Marching Band . . .

Sweating an important putt . . .

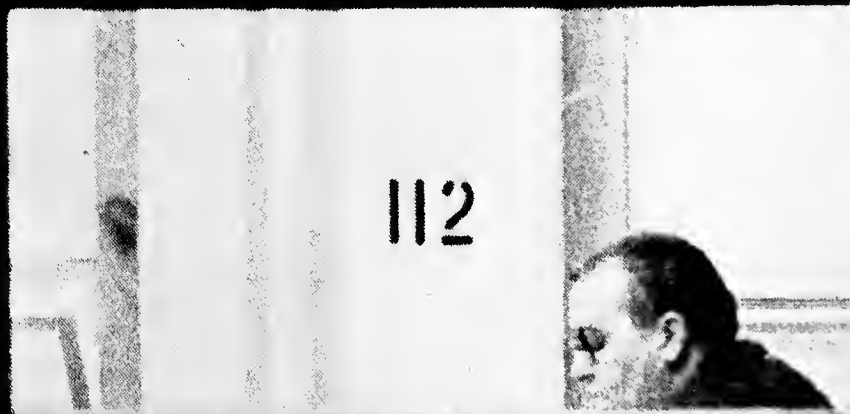

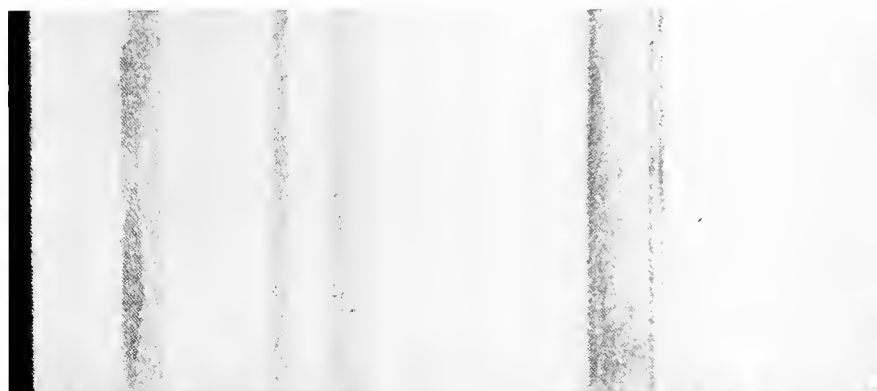

Burning midnight oil . . .

An "escape": the bookshelves . . .

A professor and his class . . .

The 10:28 rendezvous . . .

The formalities of Awards Day . . .

The pageantry of a Queen's Coronation . . .

Watching a "Mountaineer"

Romp for a touchdown . . .

A "Spring Weekend" program . . .

Urging the cindermen on to victory . . .

Ever watch the faces of the College?
 The faces of:
 A team preparing for victory . . .
 Curiosity of the faculty . . .
 The worried "card-shark" . . .
 Waiting . . . for classes, the starting gun, food, or an eclipse . . .

25TH ANNIVERSARY

The Graduation March . . .

A "roundballers" prowess . . .

Faculty on the "big day" . . .

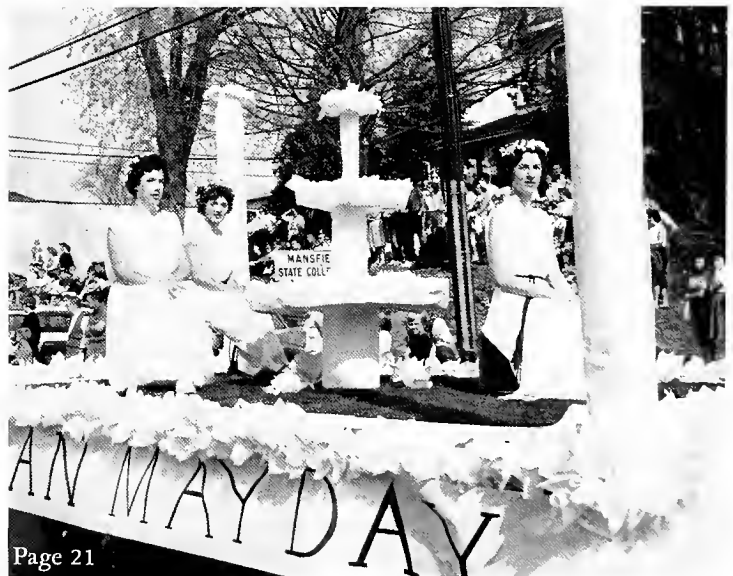

A co-ed's surreptitious glance . . .

The anxiety-filled student . . .

A musical feature . . .
 The restful male population . . .
 Splendor of the Homecoming Coronation . . .
 College Players' antique mobile . . .
 Many picturesque floats . . .
 All are reminders of Mansfield State.

A Mountie Touchdown

The M.S.C. Dust Bowl

A squad of 85 Mountaineers reported for the first day of football practice. This year, as in the preceding one, found Coach Bob "Tut" Moore at the helm of the Mountaineer squad, aided by assistant Coaches Tom Costello and Melvin Dry.

The season's renovation was the experimental use by Coach Moore of a "two, two-way system" which he labeled "Blue"- "Gold". Instrumental in helping this system along and in finishing the season with a 4-4 record were hard driving backs, Pat Charney and Sal Montagna. Captain Gerry Mattis's kicking ability could always be counted on in tight situations.

For the fourth straight year the Mansfield basketball team ended the regular season of play with the Eastern Division State College Conference pennant in their home camp.

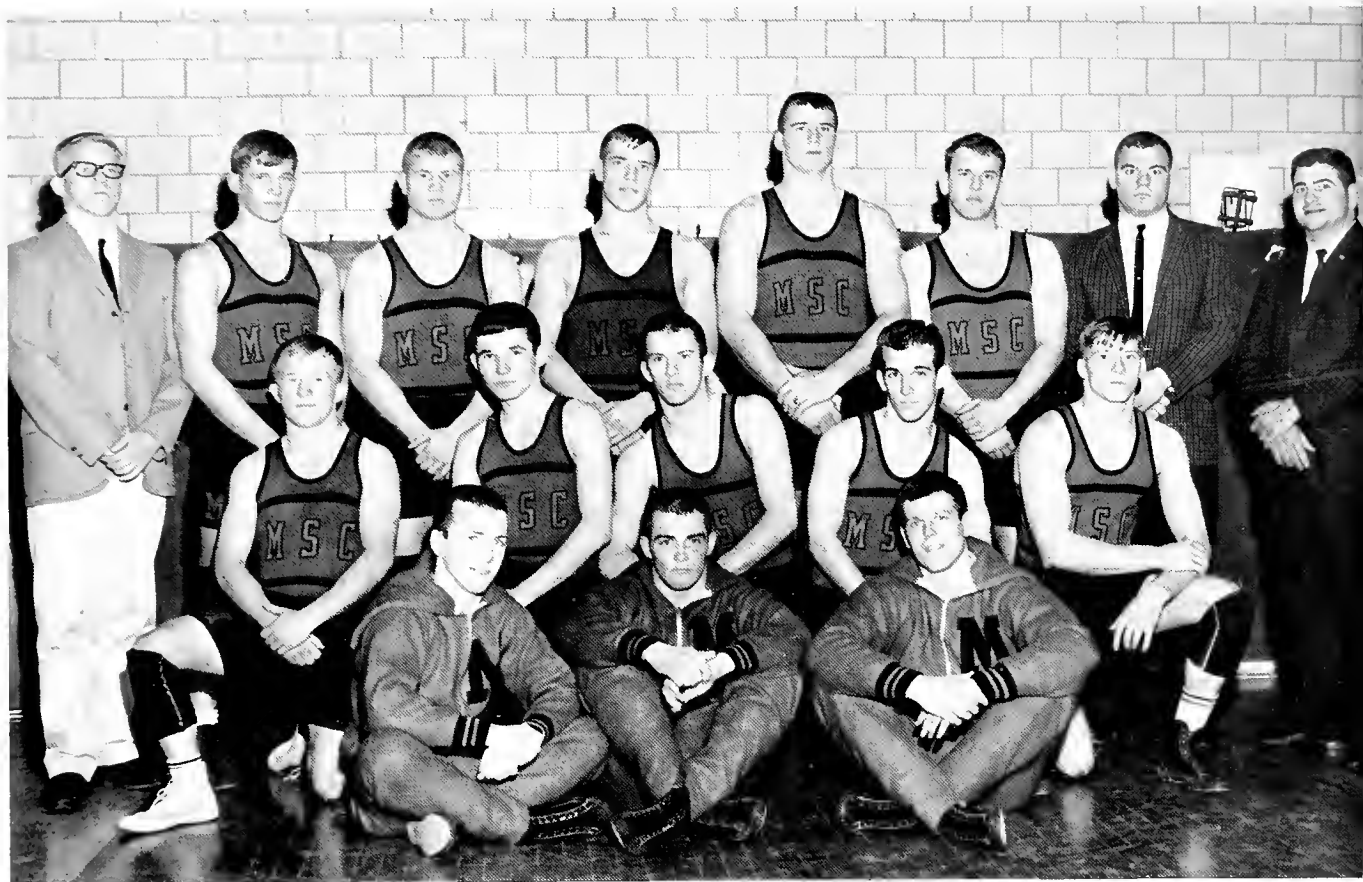

Co-captains Terry Crouthamel and Tom Wallon were aided by other varsity starters, Joe Russel, Bud Hulser, Lee Felsburg, and Paul Manikowski.

As the roundball season opened, Mountie fans at once saw two major changes from last season's squad. The first was new head Coach Bill Clark at the helm of the "Mountaineer Basketball Machine," the second was the return of "Jungle" Jim Turner to the starting lineup. Jungle, who was absent from the hardwood court the previous year, soon showed fans his rebounding ability had not left him.

The capturing of the State College Conference Championship once again earned Mansfield the right of participation in the N.A.I.A. playoffs.

26	St. Francis	6

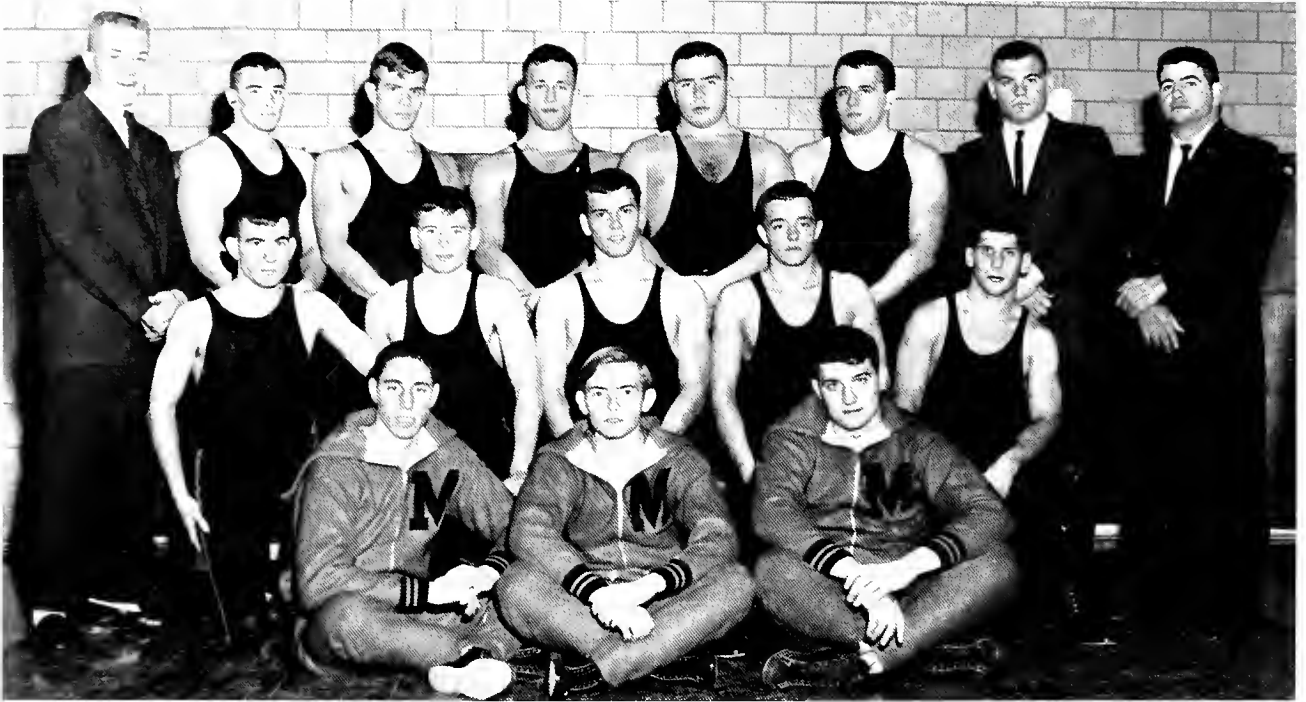

This sports year brought an innovation to the Mansfield Campus. The new event was the Mountie's initial season in wrestling on a full intercollegiate scale. The M.S.C. matmen participated in 12 dual meets, 4 freshman meets, the Wilkes College Tournament and the Pennsylvania State College Wrestling Tournament, held this year at Bloomsburg State College.

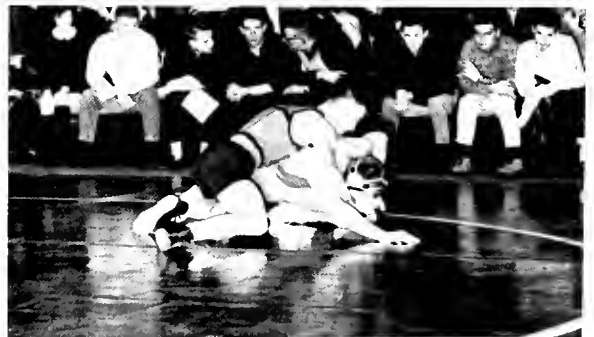

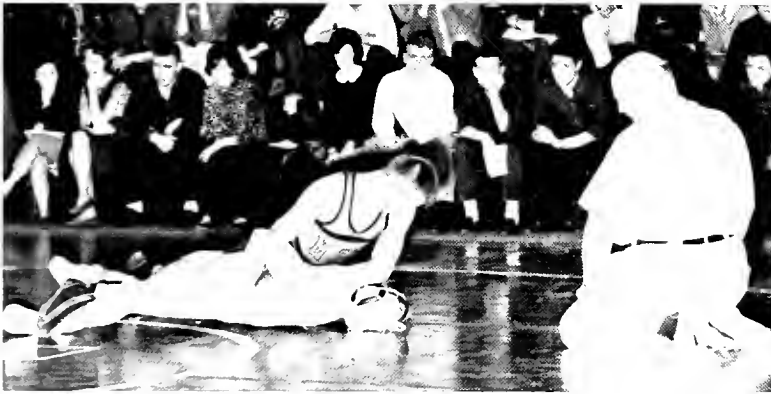

Although the team was composed mainly of freshmen, Mansfield's grapplers, under the very capable leadership of Mentor Wallace Maurer, turned in an overall season record of 8-3-1. A remarkable record for a team's debut year.

The captain for the year was Dick Cowley. Other grapplers that gave added depth to the team were Bob McDougal, Tony Antinnes, Bob Clark, Jim Talada, John Wasley, Dave Shultz, Carter Giles, and Jim Logan. Tom Heiser capably performed the duties of Assistant Coach.

1963 gave birth to the first Track and Field Team in Mansfield's history. Coach Melvin "Molly" Dry worked with about twenty Mountie men in order to get the sport on its feet.

1964 was the first year that Mansfield competed in regularly scheduled meets on an intercollegiate level. Tri-Meets were scheduled with Bloomsburg, Lycoming, Utica and Brockport; a dual meet was scheduled with Lock Haven. Mansfield ended the season by participating in the All State College Meet at Penn State.

1963 was a season of recruiting and training for the Mansfield Linksters. Under the mentorship of M. E. "Spotts" Decker, the Mounties recorded a 1-6-1 record. This sport is a growing one on the M.S.C. campus, with fledglings practicing for berths on the varsity squad.

The 1964 Carontawan is the chronicle of the Mansfield College school year. It is the task of each new staff to present the year as they see it, with the hope that it will be a little different from the way it has been presented in the past.

With this in mind, the 1964 staff began working on the book in March of 1963, and it slowly materialized. By September, and the beginning of school, we had a fair idea of the format we wanted. Our only problem was to develop it.

Pictures were taken, headlines, copy, and cutlines were written and edited before the final shipment was sent to press on February 29.

Between 2000 and 3000 pictures were taken this year by our staff and by our professional photographers, and it was our job to select those we considered best for our publication.

We realize that it is not possible to please everyone with any publication. However, we feel as a staff that we need make no apologies for this year's effort. We feel that we have done our best.

The New Carontawan

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the people who have rendered us great help in putting this, The 1964 Carontawan, together.

To the hard working members of our staff; our advisor, Dr. Mildred Menge; Mr. and Mrs. John McNaney; and Frank, our student photographer; we extend our hands in congratulations for a job well done.

Last, but far from least, we would like to thank Dean Eleanor Mayock for her assistance, and the housemothers of North Hall for putting up with the late hours we spent in our office.

Harch, Ken, Lynn
